It Was . . .

The Best Of Times,

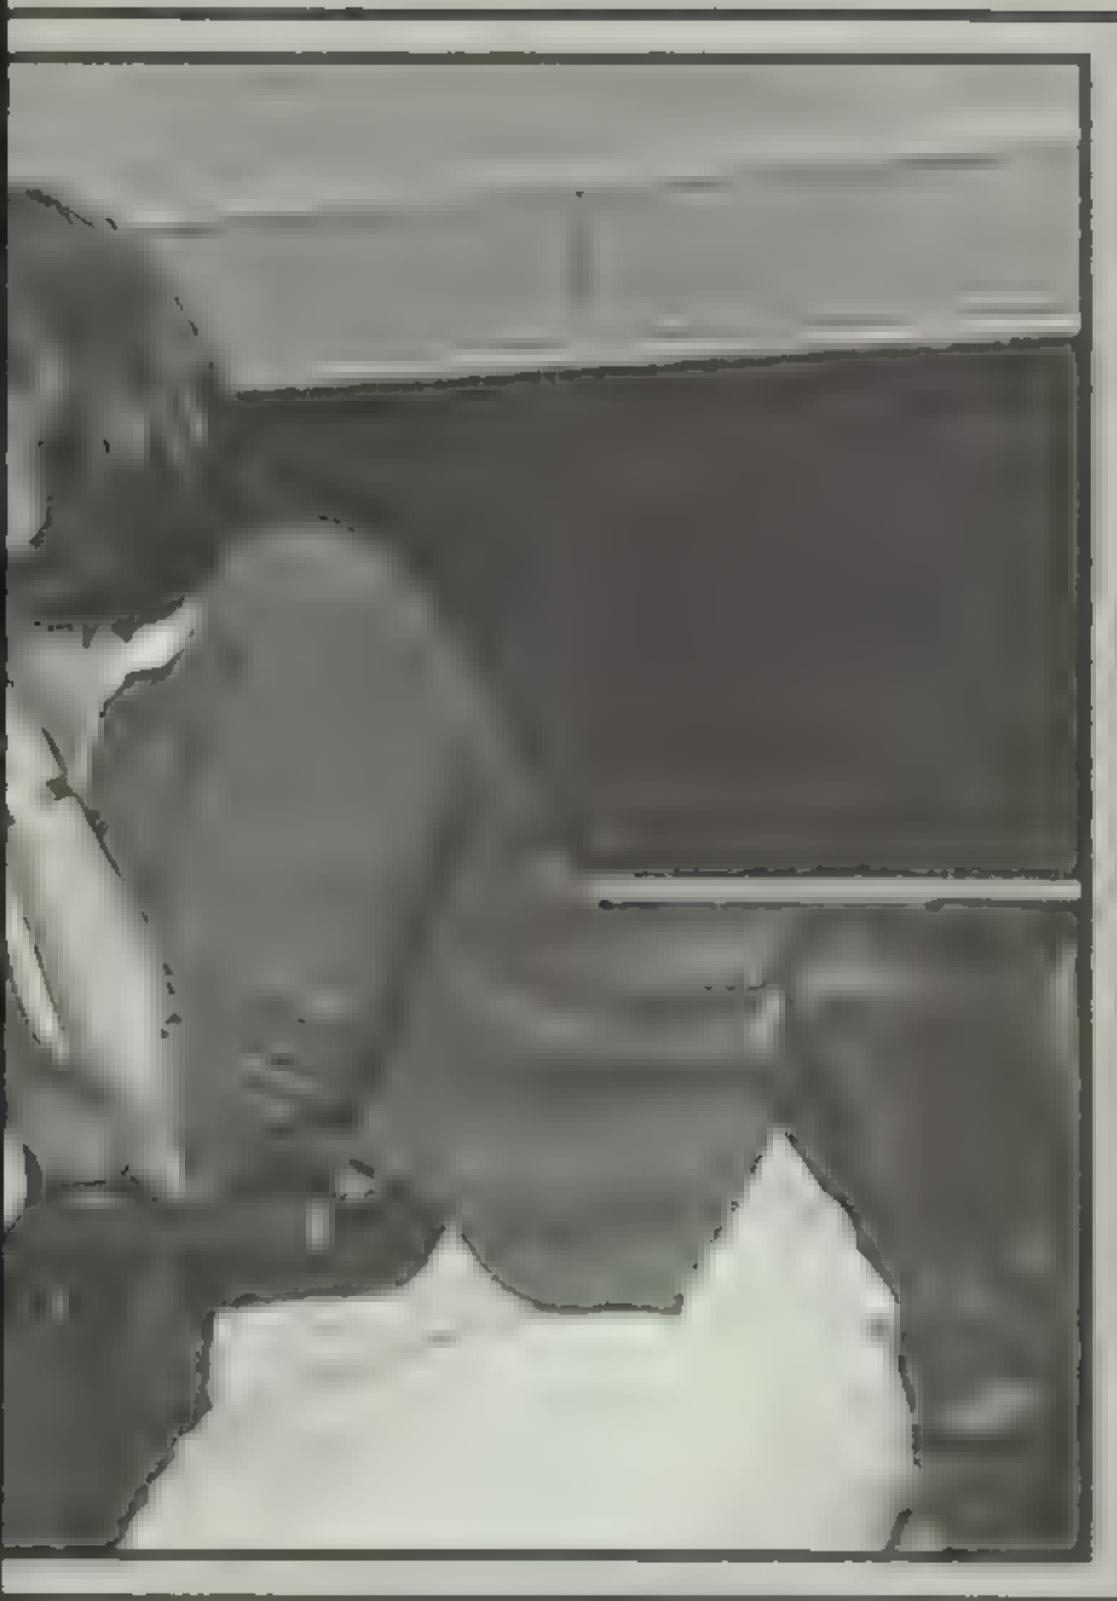

A year is remembered as a succession of outstanding events, our best times becoming our favorite memories. At GPS we are never short of good times. As a visitor once put it, "Whenever I drop in I notice that everyone seems to be enjoying herself. Everyone is running around doing different things, all smiles and just bubbling over with enthusiasm."

The Worst Of Times,

Do not forget the unpleasant aspects of the year, for without them, we would have an unrealistic view of life. By confronting our troubles and by overcoming obstacles, we gain wisdom and maturity. Remembering difficult situations, we can laugh realizing that we survived. Applying this realization to new trials assures us that everything will work out. The bad times combined with the good shape our characters and make us what we are.

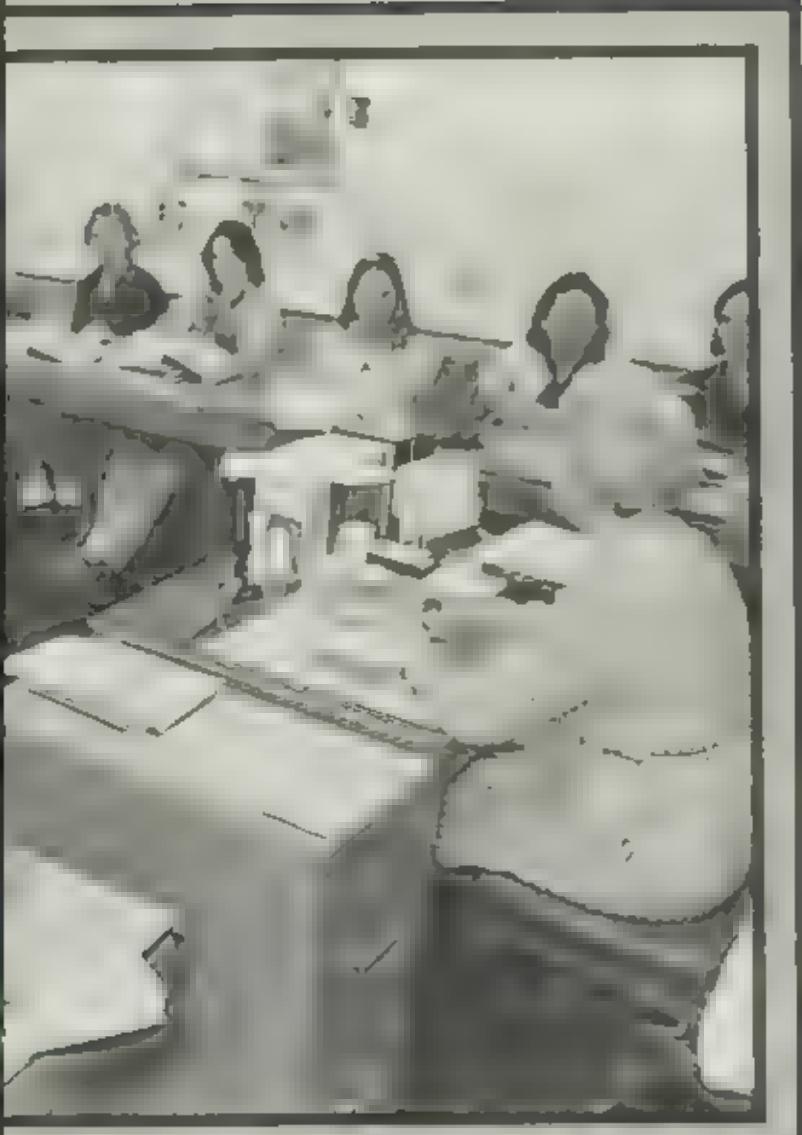

“The only difference between a stumbling block and a stepping stone is how you use it.”

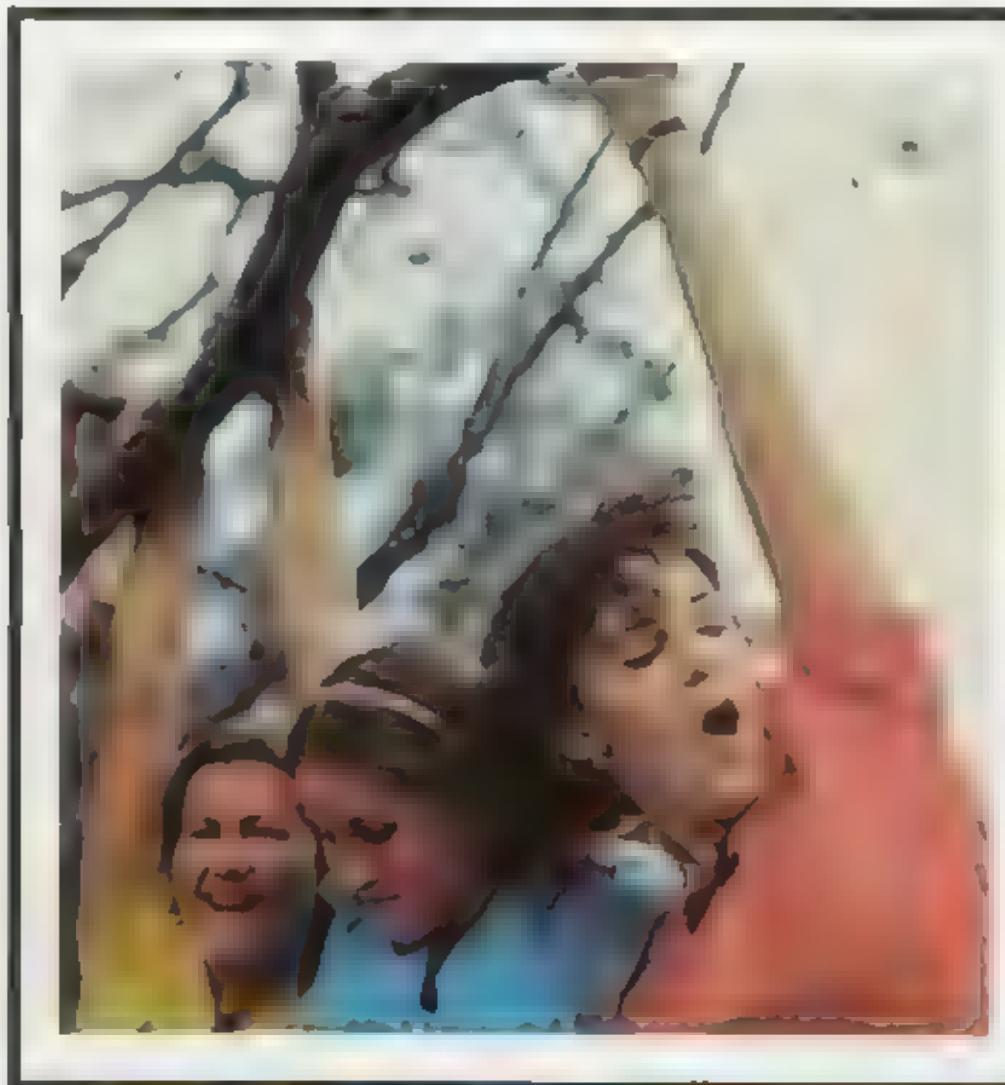

The Age Of Wisdom,

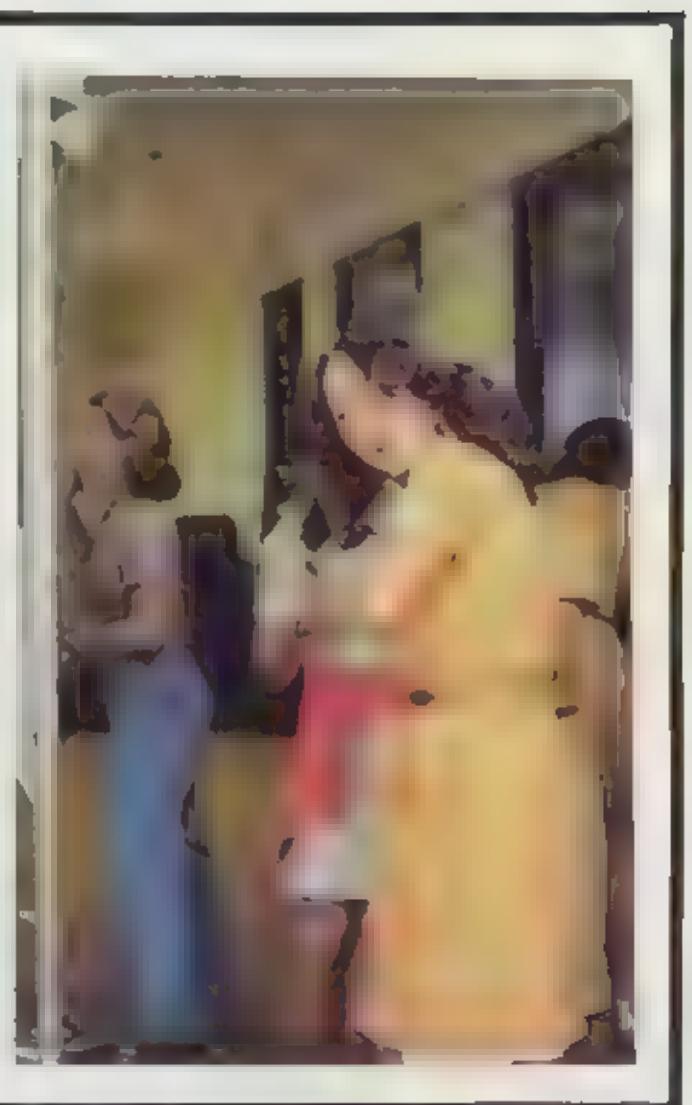

At GPS wisdom is highly honored. The wise are respected and often we look to them for guidance and leadership. We gain wisdom through participation in all phases of school life: academics and extra-curricular activities.

The Age Of Foolishness

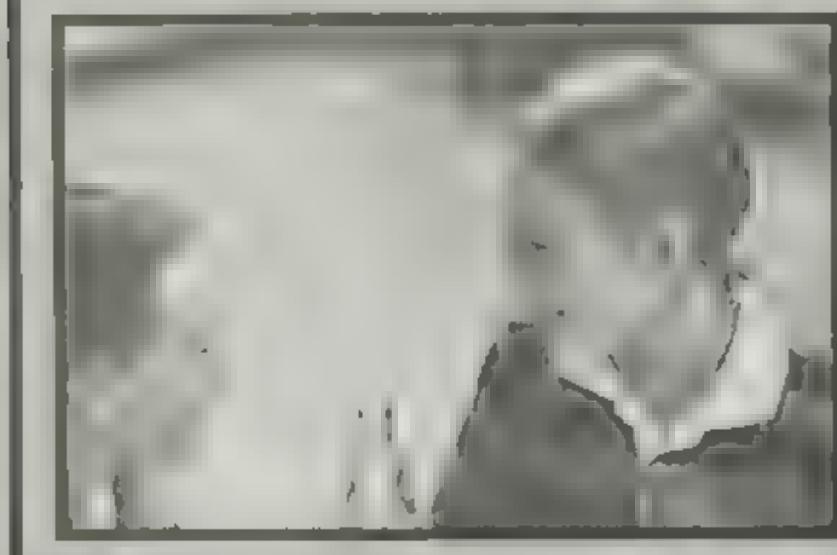

We are experienced in the foolish ways of youth. To an onlooker, at times it would surely seem that we have no sense except a sense of humor. Foolishness marks an age of innocence. As we become older and more sophisticated, we are faced with the realities and responsibilities of adulthood, and some of that foolishness is lost. Now, while we still have the freedom, we are uninhibited — laughing, scheming and doing wild and crazy things

"No one is sane who does not know how to be insane on proper occasions."

The Epoch Of
Belief,
The Epoch Of Incredulity,

During high school as we take on more responsibilities, we are faced with conflicting values and ideals. We must discern fact from fiction, accept what is true and discard what is not.

In Short,

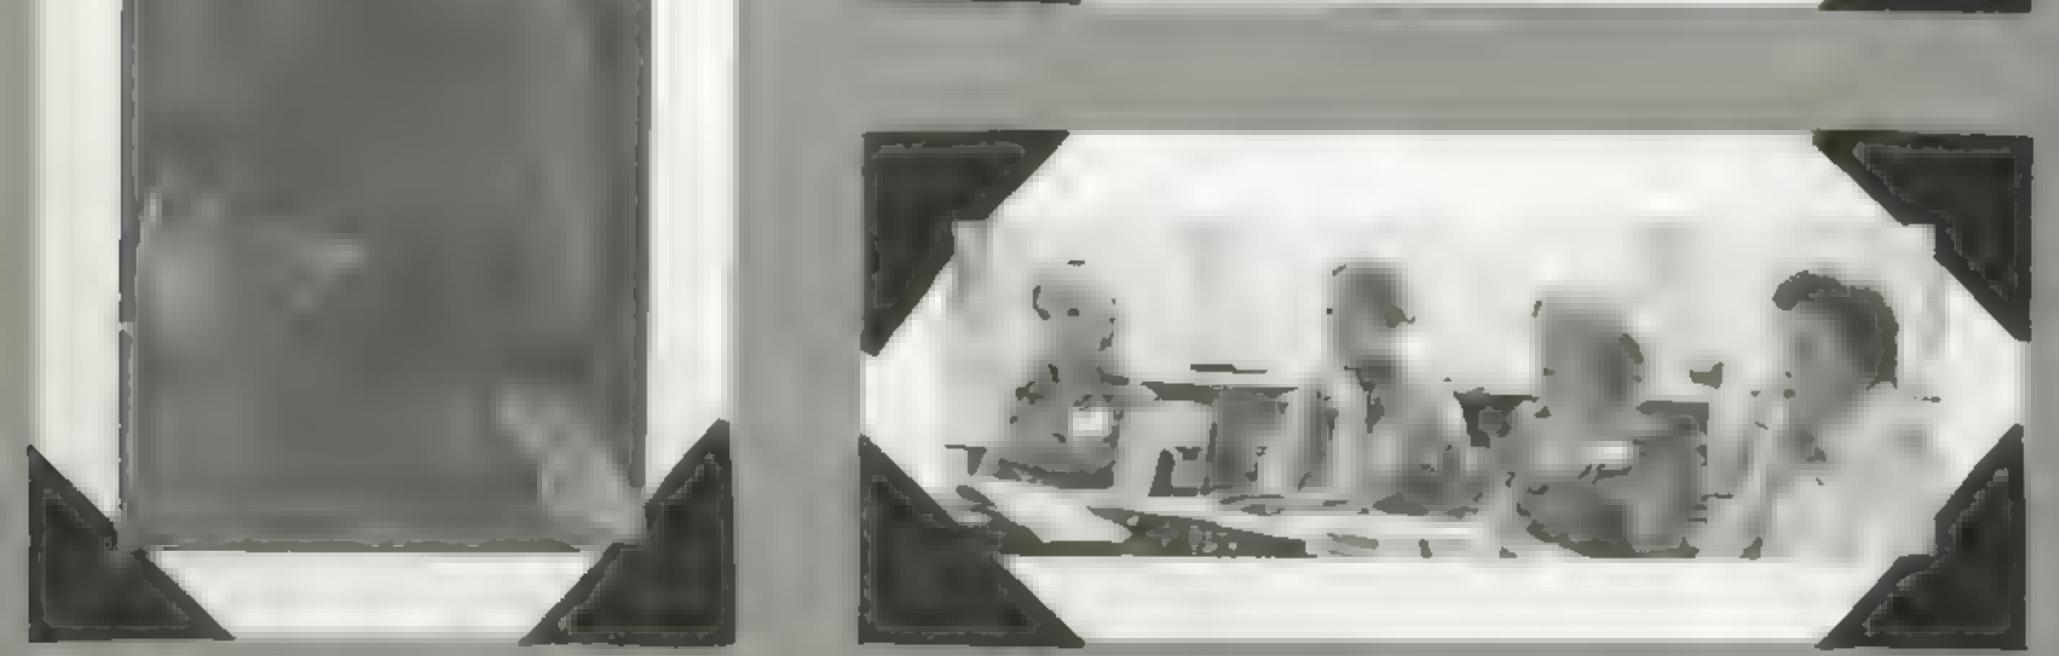

It Was
A Classic Year

As all other classics endure, so will the memories of this unique and eventful year. Each of us is immortalized in the KALEIDOSCOPE, which is our scrapbook of the good, the bad, the wise, the foolish, the believable, and the incredible.

The Board of Trustees meets several times a year to determine school policies, handle finances, discuss changes and make decisions. It is divided into committees-faculty improvement, building and maintenance, and financial resources. The Board generally keeps a low profile, and most students are not aware of all that it contributes to GPS.

University of North Carolina, M A., Ph D

Dr. Hughes, our witty, charismatic headmaster of Nat's Angels farm, is the most enthusiastic supporter of GPS. It is evident that he allows the school to offer nothing less than the best for its students. When Dr. Hughes' administration began five years ago, things started happening; and since that time GPS has undergone remarkable improvements: the academics have been upgraded, the sports program has been expanded, new buildings have emerged, and the school has been beautified both inside and out. Dr. Hughes shows his personal concern for the students by coaching the chess team, the seventh grade basketball team, the football team, and by teaching his course in Great Books. Although Dr. Hughes describes himself as a "reluctant enforcer," he capably executes the decisions of the Board of Trustees with true dedication

"To be only myself in a world that is doing its best to make you everyone else"

Kathy who? She's the girl from Berlin who came dashing into our class in her junior year. She's just a regular girl next door, just as innocent as well, she does have a unique personality. Ask anyone in Florida or Hilton Head or Berlin. If you ever need to find this girl on weekends, she can be found cruisin' down Brainerd Road in her big black MOB car to check out the night deposits and clubs. If she's not boogying down in her polka-dotted underwear, she might be found sitting on Sunset Rock thinking philosophically or teaching horsebackriding lessons at Baylor, where she can really handle the surroundings. Ask her about any guy she's dating and she'll say "but he's just a friend." Sure, kid, we hear ya! Quite frankly though, she is known for her Berlin boyfriend, vibrant desire for Zayres, and a cool temper. Kath, take care and don't forget us, no matter where you are!

Carolyn Alexander Beyer

"Love isn't love — until you give it away."

Caro lyn — one "n" not two "n's" — our little dancing robot, is always ready for action, whether she's on the B-court, on the tennis courts, or at East Ridge games. She does what she likes to do best — painting, dancing. If there are two ways to do something, she always finds a third. She's definitely one of a kind, far from a prep. As a member of a club outside of school, Pi-Delta-Phi, she was elected chaplain, but no one can understand why. No matter whether her hangout is Pizza Hut or anywhere else, she is never at home. It's 11:00 PM; do you know where Lyn is? Toby or not to be; that is the answer

"The beginning of wisdom is the realization that the thing that you are anxious about today won't seem important tomorrow."

Who is tall, thin, has beautiful blonde hair and comes on as an angel? Who always has her work done and turned in on time? Who gets horrible crushes on McCallie boys of every description? Who hates to be the first to leave a party? Who loves Glee Club tours, Mid-Winters, foreign cars, First Pres., and Lookout Mountain? Who is a loyal friend and has a great shoulder for crying on? Our own little Margaritaville. Margaret, you have a deep dedication to the truly good things in life and that's what it takes. Never lose your faith, kindness, and love of life, and God will bless you greatly

Joan Talley Blake

"I loved you ere I knew you; Know you now, and having known you, love you better still."

Joan is the only girl in the Senior Class who always has a tan but never works at it. "Y'all, I'm really not tan!" If you're looking for Joan, look for campgrounds, tennis courts, volleyballs, pools, or skies. During spring vacation, Joan is one of the elite few who can attract so many men that she has three on each arm. "Hey, Joan, we never finished our badminton game!" If there were an award for the most versatile feet, Joanie would get it. Joan is a true Tennessee Volunteer in every aspect of the word. It is safe to say that without her the volleyball team would fall apart. Joan can be relied on to be a true friend, and we love you for that. Remember, "To handle yourself, use your head; to handle others, use your heart."

"The rainbow of our change has just begun "

Nancy, our world traveler, always seems to find boyfriends wherever she goes — Hawaii, Vermont, Canada, Atlanta, UTC, McCallie, East Ridge Baptist, or the gas station. Her diels never cease to amaze us. How does dating older men justify being able to eat two pieces of lemon pie without meringue, and ice cream and cake without gaining weight? Nancy is known for her speeding yellow Cougar, those ever-present curlers, uncontrollable laughter, believing anything anyone tells her and constantly playing the fool — not knowing how to get into a pay parking lot, not being able to operate Teller 24, taking people out to dinner without money, and falling off bleachers during chapel. But don't worry, wherever you go or whatever you decide to do, your outgoing personality and a little help from your friends will get you far.

Mary Elizabeth Braddock

"The measure of a man's character is what he would do if he knew that he would never be found out."

Beth, our spirited girl from East Ridge, has decided that things go better on the other side of the river. She can often be found either cruising around Baylor in her red Nova or locking her keys in the car. In her sophomore year, Beth was planning on Marion, but(z) in her junior year World War II started and she resorted to Trent-ch warfare. Beth is known for her extreme enthusiasm, her cravings for pecan pie and ice cream, her laughter, her loyalty to Baylor, her knowledge of basketball, her motherly protectiveness, and her love for blonde hair and green eyes. Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment, and genuine delight than this combination of Eve, Cleopatra, and Florence Nightingale? Good luck in the future, Beth, and remember, "We are all in the gutter but some of us are looking at the stars."

Cynthia Jean Bradley

"God sends the thread for a web begun." "Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!"

William Faulkner, look out! Cynthia Bradley is about to hit the world with her writing — her acting, and herself. She is a movie trivia expert; she knows the stars, crew, and extras in every movie since January 27, 1950. Along with her celluloid fascination is a constant desire for things that are "hot 'n' juicy" and "Frosty." For six years, our Brooklyn-born Cindy has been lending her exquisite soprano to musical groups, classes, and libraries. Only she would carry a stuffed Tigger around Disney World for seven hours, play computer Yahtzee at 1:00 A.M., "Drown Bugs for Fun and Profit," and someday, while living in a penthouse high atop Fifth Avenue, appear on Broadway reciting "Love To Eat Them Mousies." Whatever her ultimate career, we know that Cindy will get there in style.

Georgia Martyn Carney

"If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

"I had french fries and hot chocolate for breakfast this morning." Thus begins another day in the life of George, our resident space cadet and Wendy's devotee (Hot 'n' juicy?). George got her start in the seventh grade as Mother Nature, advancing to an avid tennis player in the eighth grade ("Come on, baby, double fault!"). Suzy Homemaker is a seamstress, cook, knitter, and summer Mainiac. Who else would swell up from pecan pie or behave in Mrs. King's tenth grade Latin class? The class perfectionist is also a stereo buff, addicted to Carole King and the classics. Hey, George, there's a Bluegrass festival this weekend! This unexcitable, often witty girl is a great friend, but remember, Semper ubi, sub ubi. Like wow!

"Woman shall not live by man alone."

These words sound like those of a brazen woman libber, but in all honesty, they belong to someone who is one of the girls. This girl likes music, drama, gothic romances, boys, and fall days. She tends to be moody. One minute you'll hear her laughing hysterically at her own puns, and the next minute, she'll be brooding with much to do over nothing. The big difference between this girl and others is her goal to be self-dependent. She wants to take in the good qualities of others and mold herself into an individual that's got it together. This girl knows that a woman can do anything and be anything as long as she has the will to do so, and she parts by saying, "Hang in there, girls, and be your own for we can do with or without man."

Caroline Quillian Chipley

"I'd rather be a first rate version of myself than a second rate version of anybody!"

Where's Carly Simon? Oh, it's just the eighth wonder of the world, five foot thirteen inch Caroline, who is destined to be the new blues and jazz singer of the '80's. Charismatic Caroline, our Streisand sound-alike, can often be found seated under her favorite caricature (How many minutes 'till he comes home, Caroline?). Well, chitzke! Even so, she's still Seventeen at heart. Who would believe that Caroline, our clas disco queen, was a general (Hallelujah!) from "Manhattan"? (You were born to wear red ... six foot tomato?) This graceful blonde bombshell with the explosive (jab her with your elbow!) voice is known for being crazy and wild. No one who would corrupt innocent juniors and seniors could ever be a member of the WCTU. Hey, baby, Richard loves you! Tune in Chipley! (Oh fie-fie!) It's been heavy, deep and real, you ham! We'll miss you.

Martha Nell Cooley

"Oh there's no time to lose, I heard her say./ You gotta catch your dreams before they run away./ Dying all the time./ Lose your dreams and you might lose your mind./ Is life unkind?"

Martha (Tate) Cooley spends almost more time in North Georgia than in Chatt-town. Despite her frequent absences, we've managed to have some great times together. When Martha was in the ninth grade, we could never figure out whom she loved more — Sport or Joe. Hey, Martha, clear something for us: are you a Cooley or a Jumper? There are certain things about Martha that we'll never forget, like the time she was showing us a "neat trick" and burst her head open, or her old heaps which she used to give names and drive around like Mercedes, or true confessions at 3 AM in Cooley's yard. When Martha chopped all her hair off in her sophomore year, we almost died; but at last she is growing out her beautiful mane, and once more we will be able to ask, "Who's the girl with the hair?"

Virginia Anne Corey

"The essentials of happiness in this life are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

The last of the Corey clan, the girl with three older brothers, long, thick, spider lashes and five feet. It's a little V.A., the only Cat that's mistaken for a Rat. You can always find the occasion not to diet. (94 pounds is a lot, isn't it?) Need a love story? V.A.'s got all the volumes. She is known for her cute personality and for being a lover of good times. Even through her joking, you will find a truly sincere and thoughtful friend who is always willing to lend an ear to other people and their problems. V.A., don't forget our don't-tell-anyone talks, handcreams, elbow creams, all over body creams, "Go Big Red," but most of all remember "precious things come in small packages."

"She put all her troubles in a box, sat on the lid and smiled."

The name is Jean Crouch J-E-A-N, not Jeannie, Mean Jean, not Jean Bean, but Jean. C-R-O-U-C-H, not Grouch, not Crotch, but Crouch. Jean is always on the move. She can be seen zooming out to the lake, Lookout Pres., the cafeteria, or simply trying to get her art work in on time. By the way, if you see her talking when no one else is in the car, don't worry! She is just trying to convince Ethel (her car) to go. Ticklet, we'll always admire you for your never worrying, your listening and talking at the right times, and your optimistic thinking. Never lose these qualities and your love for life and good times. Don't forget "The grand essentials for happiness in this life are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

Carolyn Elizabeth Davidson

"Desire joy and thank God for it. Renounce it, if need be, for others' sake. That's joy beyond joy."

Carol is a sensitive friend who hides her generosity behind the world's weirdest escapades. She performs feats of agility such as touching her tongue to her nose and scratching her back wherever it itches. Chattanooga's champion cheese chomper never tires of cheese with salad. Won't that clog you up? Adán sue el primer hombre — but, chica, what does "Adán" mean? She's always dependable — twenty years from now she'll still be defending her cat Pooh-Pooh with a decoupage brush as her only weapon. Her favorite activities are shooting pencils up eudiometer tubes in chemical warfare and putting dead bugs in clean motel glasses for maids to find. After a dance, at which only the band broke the silence, she's sworn off men. But don't worry, Carol — there's always Plan B.

"I think I'm allergic to morning"

If a person heard the name Charlotte she would think of a high voice, a blue Camaro, punctuality, good attendance, big brown eyes, love of insects, and excitement. When Charlie Brown is around, there is never a dull moment. She keeps herself and others constantly entertained. From late night red hots to early morning classes, she has taught her friends to expect only the unexpected. Squeaky, remember Ruby Falls and the split coke? Hey, Charlotte, where'd you get the purple paper and the cuties you and Amy found at the beach? Charlotte, we admire you for your determination, straightforwardness, and concern for others. Your high goals and love of life will take you far. Wherever you go or whatever you do, remember we think you're one of a kind. We love you. Remember "Always stand in silence with your head held high, the boundaries are the earth and the sky."

Martha Elizabeth Dunbar

"Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of"

In the fall of 1975, Missy graced the halls of GPS, and things have never been the same. In her three short years here, she has entertained us with her insane sense of humor. Remember the watermelon fight? The last one to get her driver's license, she could also very well be the last to apply to a college, as she has perfected procrastination to an art. ("Missy, are you ever going to turn that English paper in?") She just "never gets around" to doing things. Even in all the confusion, Missy is one of the unique friends that one meets only once in a lifetime. She is always there with a shoulder to cry on and an ear to listen, or with a joke to start off the day. ("Ya'll, have you heard about the . . .") She is a true and loyal friend and we only wish she could have been with us from the start. Missy, wherever you go, we'll always remember and love you

"Life is to be fortified by many friendships. To love and to be loved is the greatest happiness of existence."

Margaret, our little redhead with the big smile, better known as Marge, can usually be seen at Wendy's, in Bristol, or at Alabama. She has worn a path from Signal Mountain to McCallie, but these trips were not in vain. They always had a purpose as going to the library did. Marge, we know if we tied your hands behind your back you would never be able to say anything. We're sure Wendy's is boring without you. And what about Bristol? Did they think you were brother and sister? Well, what do you expect? Not many people date their look-a-likes. We'll remember you for our late night discussions, your orange hair, and your eating some of everything but never all of anything. Remember us and the fun times we've had.

Candace Ann Elkins

"There is a sacredness in tears. They are not the mark of weakness, but of power. They speak more eloquently than ten thousand tongues. They are the messengers of overwhelming grief, of deep contrition, and of unspeakable love."

Candy? What's she complaining about now? At present her job and school keep her busy, but when she has free time she does what she does best — procrastinate. Her interests are dancing, skeet, and sports. And many may ask, "Did you really meet the tennis pro, Stan Smith?" At times Candy does crazy things like going for a swim during the prom. She and Mary will never forget the car trouble, those tired aching feet, and the no. 104. If you don't see Candy with Lyn, Terry, and Mickie, then you don't see her at all. Quiet, sensitive, moody Candy — never forget how to smile and never give up.

"When faced with a mountain I will not quit! I will keep on striving and turn the mountain into a gold mine."

Kelly is a friendly, funny girl who has a very crazy personality. She says,

"My hair never does what I want it to do." But we all know it looks as good as Farrah's. Kelly always has a good time in Knoxville, since she is a loyal fan of UT. Kelly loves to drive Margo the Monza. Everyone knows she misses her long lost buddy in Alaska. In the summer Kelly keeps busy by playing tennis, jumping on her trampoline, and swimming in her pool.

We'll miss you! Good luck at UT

Jhan Elizabeth Erwin

"It's great to have friends, to be able to share/ All life's ups and downs and to know that they care."

Who's the girl with the van? It must be Jhan (alias Juan, John, Zhan) Jhan's prowess on the soccer field, volleyball court, and dance floor is the envy of everyone. We know you like to dress up, but boots and gauchos at the grocery store? Who can forget your skiing parties? New Year's parties! Were we really singing AULD LANG SYNE in the street at 12:00 A.M.? With a sparkle of your yellow eyes, you'd have a date every weekend — if only the boys could find your house! At school Jhan's the studious type, but get her to a dance or in Nashville, watch out! We know that if you ever decide where to go to college, you'll have as many friends there as you do here!

"Each one stands alone on the heath of the earth, pierced by a sunbeam and suddenly it is dusk."

Once upon a time, a small yet industrious ant came to GPS from Italy. This little ant was very smart and made better grades in English than the natives. She experienced the wonders of Cat-Rat Day, GPS uniforms, American movies, and football. She made many new friends and tasted some of the delicacies of the Deep South such as cornbread and turnip greens. But she did like grits. Her pronunciations amused us with such classics as "Cow cow Ius." She had a little trouble understanding the humor of some of the teachers when they spoke of such things as dumbo program. Her foreign accent came in handy when tryouts for the play THE WOMEN came along, and she got the part of the sexy French maid. Good luck, Lucia. You have already come far, and we know you will go far in the future.

Lydia Elaine Fox

"Early to bed and early to rise takes all the joy from being thought wise!"

Lydia, the girl with the hair, floats down the hall in a perpetual dream. Although she may appear to be in a world of her own, we know by seeing her on the tennis courts or in the swimming pool that she is a real team competitor. She is the only senior who can absorb knowledge by sleeping on her books. Always ready to share a laugh or an insight, Lydia makes any situation entertaining, including the classroom. At lunch Lydia is seen hiding behind humongous salads. At night she transforms into an Arthur Murray disco dance woman complete with vintage clothes and high heels. By the way, Lydia, what do you do on Friday nights?

"Prayer lets a Person who loves you into your life."

"Who is that girl who bounces all the time?" That's Donna. "Is she hyperactive?" No, just lively. Donna's our quiet but loud, modest but outgoing St. Elmo gal. She drives her silver (dove-gray) Cougar to her home, the church, school, UTC, the lake, and the softball field. We have learned never to ask Donna a question unless we want to be totally confused. Surely our commended scholar can think better than she can explain things! She can be seen wearing a jacket in July and feels more comfortable behind a camera than in front of one. Mention of a pop test brings total panic and the expletive "Oh wow!" (Harsh words from a P.K.!) She's also known for her memory. ("The answer is on page 46.") With her yellow cat-eyes, white teeth, and blonde curls, she has attracted and confused boys from Canada to Carson-Newman. Keep your goals and your smile, and you'll go far. We love ya.

Charlotte Frances Grant

"Success is the fruit of slow growth."

Charlotte, sometimes known as mistake, squatt, or just plain old Cha, is the only girl in school who doesn't know a typewriter ribbon from a GPS bow. Hey, Cha, did you really lose your senior ring in the washing machine? Oh, well, you had it for two weeks. Upon first viewing her class picture, "Oh, gosh a'mighty! It's Minnie Mouse with her hair bent." After losing a golf tournament, "Oh, no! I choked — I'm going to kill myself. Missed a free trip to Disney World by one stroke." Well, today's the day Mrs. Bowman is going to have a lost-control fit. You've been late to history for the 53rd straight time. "If I only had a BMW, I could get here so much faster." Charlotte is the prime example of a sports nut. She is crazy about sports, even golf. Whatever road you decide to take, we know you will succeed.

"Forsan et haec olim meminisse juvabit."

"Perhaps someday it will delight you to remember these things."

What can be said about Susan, who was renamed Betsy by the eighth grade eraser-thrower? Certainly the tales of her encounters with lifeguards at Shepherd Hills Pool would bore only the most intellectual of literary critics. Perhaps detailed accounts of the last night of Whirlwind '77 and of a certain sock hop would please the society tastes of Rona Barrett. Susan will earn her place in the annals of time by her frequent M&M fits, her ability to trip over both visible and invisible objects, her superior translations of Latin, or her less than superior jokes. Susan is also our brainchild who hides a quick wit and a sympathetic ear behind her big blue eyes. Susan, with your brains and friendly ways you will go far, and don't let your mother embarrass you too much!

Catherine O'Keefe Hayden

"Expect a miracle today."

"Cathy Hayden, hmm, are you related to Ben Haden?" Cathy, how many times have you heard that? Our tall blonde beauty is known for telling us her elaborate dreams and her plans for the future. Her heart lies at Southwestern, but even if she doesn't go there, we know she'll have a beau at any college. Her interests range from Theatre to Kevin Collins, a very close beau and a devoted friend; but when she gets off that stage or out of Kevin's range, look out! Her actions become very unpredictable; one can expect almost anything but sanity. Her voice grows louder and her arms flap everywhere at once. Such frenzied activity does not cause alarm because Cathy tends to over-express herself at times. All this makes her a unique, wonderful and special person.

Nancy Taylor Holley

"I don't want to make you spin, meet your kin, or do you in. All I want to do is be friends with you

Taylor, better known as Johnny Cash, is a true lover of the fast, good life. She and her eye can be found aimlessly wandering in Colorado, on the other mountain with Jan, or falling over chains at the KOA. Longing to be a world traveler, dreams of a "Trop"ical sunset drive Taylor, mother, and certain watchers of the ant races to such exotic, faraway places as Pompano. Also a permanent resident of the Holley Hilton, which has been established as a haven of rest for the weary, Taylor has made the hotel popular by installing such luxuries as an all night desk clerk and color TV "Hey, Taylor, jeel jet?" "Naw, jew?" "Don't you understand that it ain't no good? You can't let other people get your kicks for you."

Leslie Allison Hope

"We can justify our every deed but God looks at your motives."

When you think of Leslie, you think of infectious laughter, a strange sense of humor, our girl of the past, slip always showing, artistic ability, keeping secrets, love of old movies, 50's dancing, and the girl who when listening to the radio plays instrumental along with the band. Leslie, our little sweetie, is highly emotional and has been known to become uncontrollably excited over such things as Mid-Winters, pretty sunsets, or remembering a dream she had the night before. That's OK, Leslie, we know you're not Jean or Ellen, but a unique blend of sweetness and thoughtfulness with a touch of devilment which comprise a girl who is far from Hopeless. Don't worry: "Earth has no sorrows heaven cannot heal."

"Nothing is a waste that makes a memory."

Valerie, our sentimental, incurable romantic and the only senior who knows where wild rice comes from, can usually be seen with a Tab or needlepoint in hand. Daddy's little girl keeps her friends in constant amazement with her never-ending rings, cars, and homes. If Valerie is not on the mountain, at a movie, shopping, at Leslie's, or babysitting with her sisters, she is probably at St. Simons. Amid her ever-changing life, Valerie always has time to listen to her friends' problems. "Leslie! This time I'm going to make straight A's!" Waco! Waco! Hey, Hop, we'll truly be lost at college without your advice. By the way, where's the cafeteria? Valerie, wherever you go we wish you luck through your college days, career days, small cottages, and big mansions.

"Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see the shadow."

"Is Julie Housch here?" "Yes ma'am, but that's Housch as in Bush!" Julie has a flair for the creative and is always getting original ideas for her various projects. Can't find Julie? You're probably looking in the wrong place. She's probably working on the annual, singing in Glee Club, Madrigals or acting in Theatre Arts. A master storyteller, Houschie-Bushie entralls crowds at the lunch table with tales of Island adventures, brothers, cars, or varied family experiences. Her witty personality often brings out the gullibility of her friends. Julie is always generous, especially when it comes to giving rides in her car — that is, if you don't mind listening to Christmas music in July! Our own class psychologist is always analyzing everything from "All My Children" to the latest problems of her classmates. Julie, even though you're ready for college, you'll always have a place for GPS and the good ol' days in your heart.

Julie Anne Housch

Kate Dunwody Jackson

"Don't walk in front of me; I may not follow. Don't walk behind me; I may not lead. Just walk beside me and be my friend."

"Oh, y'all, I'm so embarrassed!" This can be frequently heard from Kate, our own little Charlie's Angel. Kate is known for her fashionable dressing and fluffy hair. She can be seen going out on double dates and ending with her date all by herself. Better known for her poolside stripteases, Kate has a flair for attracting unsuspecting Baylor or McCallie boys. "Hey, Cato, who is it this time?" Remember rolling yards, football games, vampires, and who could forget our friendly lifeguard. Kate, if you ever learn not to laugh in church, class, or chapel, it will be a miracle. We'll always love and remember you. Don't forget the fun we've had.

Elizabeth Jean Jenkins

"He who knows not and knows not that he knows not — He is a fool; shun him"

Who's the girl driving the Blue Blitz and racing into the parking lot? It's only Beth, and she's only fifteen minutes late this time. Beth is a lover of McCallie, Terpsichord, Alabama, and Steve Martin jokes. She can be found at Wendy's where she either loses her pocketbook or watches Ebbie turn over tables. Who else could lose her Master Charge twice in one year or get a car a month before she can legally drive it? Beth, we'll never forget your chemistry classes and labs, bread with salt, potato chips with ketchup, and your foot always in your mouth. Beth, do you buy your gas at Phillips 66? Just think, you'll always be remembered as the last person to turn in a senior write-up. When you're at Alabama, don't forget any of us; there's no way that we'll forget you

"In the midst of winter I finally learned that there was in me an invincible summer."

Terrie came to us as a sophomore from Wildcat country, but by her junior year she was yelling, "Dynamo Power!" When not in uniform, she can be found in Levi's and tee-shirt and usually cruising around in her silver Monarch. By the way, what happened to that car on the night of Candy's party? Please remember that expressing an opinion is one thing, but the slipping of the tongue will get you in trouble. Oh nuts! And speaking of trouble, who is that unknown friend from City with whom you always seem to get in trouble? Don't forget your friends when you go off to college because we know you're dying to leave. Be good and achieve your goals.

Anne Hanahan Ford Kimzey

"Among those whom I like, I can find no common denominator, but among those whom I love, I can: all of them make me laugh."

Anne, who sees the humorous side of any situation, has a bright enthusiasm and creativity which she puts into all her projects. Her mischievous smile keeps everyone wondering what clever new scheme she has devised. (Only her twin of trouble knows for sure.) Who else is wide awake at 3 AM adding to her quote collection or planning the hayday of the Balesful Juniors? When the Kimz isn't consuming mass quantities of wild rice, she's more than happy to give her rendition of "Saturday Night Live" or a Steve Martin monologue. Our distinguished Head Tiger has many unique skills ranging from giving cave tours to singing camp songs and playing the harmonica. Wherever she goes, this shady character will have no trouble attracting friendly tigers. "Hubba-hubba, ding-ding, baby, you've got everything."

Sara Laycock Lane

"I wish I knew what I was looking for so I'd know what it was when I found it."

Sara, our beloved Soap Opera Queen and future housewife of America, has made quite a name for herself throughout her years at GPS. Complete with white socks and Speed Queen tee-shirt (built better to last longer), she will soon be on the Ten Best Dressed list along with a few elite (?) others, Earl and Easy. A regular at the Hilton and the daughter of the other mother who raided the Trop, she has bombed her way through many a week with her trusty GGD's. Thunder Thighs, known for her huge appetite, can be found pigging out on broccoli or eating hamburgers off the ground at Tellico. Sara, we wish that in your future you will remember, "Don't think twice; it's all right."

Ann Wherry Latta

"C'est l'esprit qui est la racine de la personnalité
"The spirit is the root of the personality."

Our sweet and charming Ann (ha!) is a Pollyanna and Mary Poppins rolled into one, but look close and you can see the single curl "right in the middle of her forehead!" Swoosh! Where did she go? Probably to the golf course or to glee club to do a nightingale attempt or to Northgate with twenty young men surrounding her and enjoying her exuberant personality. She's sometimes found at Mrs. Hitt's place running a one-woman-do-it-all show. Ann is the most organized person around — when she takes time off from her numerous friends and activities. One of her best attributes is her smile and "Oh sure, I'll be glad to help in any way I can!" Annie, girl, you'll go a long way in this world. Swoosh! — you already have!

"What we are is God's gift to us. What we become is our gift to God."

Feed any mathematical problem into Alicia and "the computer" produces the answer. Yes, our beautiful, dark-eyed, black-haired super-figured brain can be sound computing everything from computer programs to expenses of her last pair of contacts. Can it really be nine pairs in three years? She can be seen rambling about town in her antique or on weekend escapes with the Cougar girl. Alicia advanced from doughnuts in McCallie summer school to a different restaurant every day at UTC. Her summer escapades keep her constantly on a diet. By the way, how do you burn up all those calories from eating cheesecake on Fridays? Learned Lewis' adventures with Buxom Borden and Turkey Turner will keep her away for a while from Ruby Tuesday, Pizza Hut, and the Loft. Keep your goals high, and when you become head of an engineering corporation, don't forget us!

Sarah Katherine Lonas

"I have often wept in the night for the shortness of sight that to somebody's need made me blind, But never as yet have I felt a twinge of regret in being a little too kind."

Who is that girl over there who still has her tan in January? Oh, that's Katie, our All-American Southern Belle. You can always pick our one-man woman out of a crowd with her pearly white teeth and dark tan. Most of her life a Raider fan, Katie had a moment when things began to look Blue, but still the Big Red came through. Katie is often seen going to Glee Club or a Baylor game or saying "Y'all, I'm too embarrassed to go in there!" Never embarrassed? Always on time? Always concerned and helpful, she's the only girl that you can tell a secret to and be sure that she won't tell a soul. Good luck, Katie. Keep up your high standards and your sincere ways and you'll do great.

Beth Madden Lupton

"Not the quarry, but the chase; not the trophy, but the race."

Buffy? ... Bootsie? ... Booty? ... Oh well, the girl with the red hair and freckles who can go from moody blues to "slightly amusing" in zero point eight seconds. Her perfection is reflected in her color coordination of uniforms and sweaters, her unreal mobile and creative movement on the dance floor. Usually in the winners' circle, Boofie is a leader and a one-hundred percent go-getter, whether pursuing academic or athletic excellence or being a loyal fan of the Red Raiders. Boof, you've come quite a way from pigtails and Jeff in the seventh grade to a bouffant and the Big Crimmins of today. By the way, was that you we saw peeling down Broad Street in a Chevy SS? It's been fun! Aloha mean good-bye; it means until we meet again beneath God's starry sky.

Elizabeth Louise Magrath

"Love is my melody, and I will sing it with a smile."

There's a certain special someone who can always be seen running down the senior hall with books in one arm, a guitar in the other, and a great big smile on her face. (Oh no, what is she drumming up now?) My dear Lizard, I mean Liza, would you kindly push the hair out of your eyes and tell me what or whom you're really thinking about? No, Josephine, you can't stay after dinner for any special rehearsals! Whether our sugar babe is at Baylor ("The cows and chickens are going to the dickens?"), or at McCallie ("Oh joy, oh rapture unforeseen!"), or visiting Oliver at UTC, you can always hear those golden tonsils practicing for the Met. Don't forget Campbell soup, the farm, and Goony Christmas presents. Stay crazy — it'll keep you from going insane! By the way we love you!

"Ask me and I will play all the love that I hold inside."

Katie, our working girl, enjoys the finer things in life from jewelry to preppies. Docksiders, Izods, and pinstripes are the only way to go. Right? She is a romantic but also an independent and fun-loving girl. She has a certain charm and sophistication with that wink and those dimples. Katie, who is capable of carrying on a running conversation, has made her southern accent famous to the far reaches of Minnesota. The Kleenex company will never go out of business as long as Katie's around: she's the only girl who can cry for the whole second half of GONE WITH THE WIND. Hey, Leigh, he's not bad! Katie, Virginia is for lovers . . . or is it Minnesota? Remember all the times we've laughed together, laughed so hard we couldn't breathe. Remember all the embarrassing moments, but most of all, Katie, remember that we love you.

Joan Elizabeth Masingill

"Wrinkles should merely indicate where smiles have been."

Sometime before her junior year, Joanie, our awkward baby, blossomed into a beautiful doll. Before we knew it she was up to her ears in Baylor studs. Our elite parties at David's became a main event with side trips to Lula Lake and the Tivoli. Hey, Joanie, is your favorite sandwich still a B.L.T.? But now that all the good ole boys have gone, Joanie can be found at UTC studying her Greek and complementing the Southern hospitality. But we always did like older men didn't we? Too-short summers were spent Standing on the tennis court or riding in the ever-popular Banana Boat. Joanie has already proved she can be a shrewd business woman or a fantastic salesgirl. We all have a feeling that when J.M. hits the fashion world there are going to be some changes made because here's one girl who's not afraid of changes.

Jennifer Lynn McCall

"When you reach the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on."

Thick golden locks, starry blue eyes, a hunk of sweetness, and a dash of brains (seasoned to thunk!) make up the recipe for our cheerful little teeny bopper. Since her arrival at GPS two years ago, there has been more laughter in the halls and less food in the cafeteria. Jennifer can often be seen driving down Signal Mountain (with her radio full blast) on her way to cheer for the "Big Red" or out to Brainerd for one of her favorite Hobbies. You're never bored with Jen around. Her personality and winning ways brighten even the darkest of days. Good luck at college, Jennifer, and give everyone the pleasure of knowing you the way we have

Sara Rebecca McCallie

"I wouldn't take you to the dog fights, even if I thought you could win."

Hey, Hey, Hey — it's the Beck, the class Amazon who is able to bench press 450 pounds of solid male while saying, "Girls can do anything guys can." Also known as half-breed or chocolate filled cream puff, our greatest supporter of equal rights is never afraid to open her mouth to supply a little shock treatment; however, she has often regretted it. Hey, Becky, how does it feel to be dragged halfway to Dr. Hughes' office? Really, though, if anyone ever has a problem, she can always come to that sympathetic, big mough for a full mental and physical check-up free of charge. Although Becky is an intellectual, she knows where work ends and fun begins. Disco Duck can be found gyrating with a courageous date (What vulnerable lad wants to be responsible for the headmaster's daughter?), cruising around town in her '67 Ford Falcon complete with ejector seat, or crunching ice down in Pompano. We've laughed a lot and eaten a lot. Hey, don't worry; we'll send our kids to you when you become a doctor. Just "cool your jets!"

"I cannot rest from travel; I will drink life to the lees. All times I have enjoyed greatly, have suffered greatly, both with those that loved me and alone."

Julia Sue McElhattan — no pictures, poems or wise sayings could ever contain the unique personality and character of such a girl as Julie. The most intellectual person could never understand her, but the simple-minded could love her. Her main facets of life include her unique personality, ever-present maturity and continuous striving for the best. She is expected to be seen in the limelight of Broadway, the radio and television stations around the world or the hectic life of New York. New adventures stand in her path, old ones in her mind, and memories in her heart. Julie, always remember "Come my friends, Tis not too late to seek a newer world."

Maureen Elise McGregor

"A friend is a gift whose worth cannot be measured except by the heart."

Hey, Wally! Our cracker queen is often seen cracking up Signal Mountain or having her annual wreck before school starts, when her car hasn't been towed away. The Heinz 57 hairfro girl constantly sticks her foot in her mouth, never gets into trouble, undresses on her dates (?), and has the world's longest standing romance. Hey, Mikey, she likes it! Hey, Mar, you say Mike's a number 9 now, but in which field? Maureen's angelic face hides her devilish personality. Mar, don't ever forget rolling yards, football games, "Cute, Kate!", sunshine dances, haunted houses, your clean and well-organized locker, the Rat Pack, and our deep talks. Hey, S.A., it is true that Spaldings are better tennis balls? Well, Mar, we've had our embarrassing moments and the best of times. We'll never forget you.

"God, give me hills to climb and strength for climbing."

Who's that? It must be Hike. Or is it the girl who's always interested in the other track team? Yes, we're talking about the one and only Harriette

Harriette is a very unique kind of girl: "Now, this is true." If it's not clubs, committees, teams, classes, offices, sports, or dances, it has to be grades. "Hey, Harriette, what did you make on that Latin test?" "I'm not going to tell you!" But seriously, you are a great girl and a true friend. You've pulled us through thick and thin with your leadership and your understanding. You once said that you are a girl of simplicity, but Harriette, simple things are the best in life

Marcia Jeanne McKenzie

"The most wasted day of all is that on which we have not laughed."

We wonder if Marcia has ever recovered from tour '76 and the vibrating bed, or if her head has always been this mixed up. It's too bad Marcia didn't try out for Theatre Arts. She undoubtedly would have made it, as she has so many facets to her personality. Marcel, the most insanely silly girl in the Senior Class (Marcia, your perfume smells like — watermelons?), the hypochondriac (Will her knee ever get well, and those lumps on her neck, are they malignant?), and the Indian look-alike (I thought Indians could walk up stairs without tripping). But most of all Marcia is a friend to all (even mailboxes?) and is always ready to lend an ear and offer some advice on the most recent sob story. Marcia, keep it up and don't forget us at Alabama. Remember, we love you.

"Sharing with friends doubles our joy and divides our grief."

Hey, who's that girl driving her car up and down the "rollercoaster" at Baylor? It's Leslie, our only boarding student. Leslie (Lester) is known for many things: her brother's clothes, her duckie barrettes, and her pictures of boys. Even though she sometimes has problems with her hair, "Y'all, I look like a poodle," Leslie never seems to have problems getting the boys. Whether she's talking to boys at senior parties or going places with five boys instead of one, Leslie never settles for anything less than the best. Hey, Les, what's the latest about David Redford? Leslie, have fun next year. We promise we'll write you back and we promise we'll visit you someday. We know you'll (Ed) win everyone's heart wherever you go, just as you have here. Remember to marry rich.

"The girl who feels she is above her business, may one day find her business above her."

Felicia can often be found rambling around Signal Mountain doing errands for her mother and visiting her friends. With a great love for music, only Felicia would go to a concert in Atlanta two days before semester exams. Always on the go, Felicia spends much of her free time playing her guitar. Are you still trying to be one of the Rolling Stones? Felicia often plays jokes on her friends such as bringing a dead goldfish for lunch on April Fools' Day. Felicia will never forget the days of hanging out at Northwestern and surprise parties. Seriously, Felicia, you have been a very understanding and likeable friend and have given us many happy memories of our days at GPS. Felicia, remain the same, and you will go far in life. Really!

Felicia Ellen Miller

"Said General Oglethorpe to Wesley, 'I never forgive.' 'Then I hope, sir,' said Wesley, 'you never sin.'"

Mickie, otherwise known as Pebbles (C B code), can always be found by the side of the road in Christie, her little blue Mustang. She discovered that you have to drive under the speed limit when it rains, after she and the lady in front of her slid completely off the road. Mickie was lucky; after she did a doughnut across the oncoming lane, she landed between two trees. She didn't scratch Christie, but both right tires deflated. Oh, by the way, Mouse, marriage in how many years? Remember when you and Mary King became known as giggles in eleventh grade? You two should have an award for always breaking into laughter for no apparent reason! Good luck, Mickie!

Claudia Leigh Morrow

"Tears are often the telescope through which men see into heaven."

Leigh is our friend, mother, sister, counselor, etc. She is characterized by periods of silence followed by outbursts of laughter; she listens to all the latest sob stories, becomes tickled at inappropriate times, enjoys dancing, turns blue when she is cold, is allergic to laughing among various other things, and is always dieting. Leigh, don't ever forget those moonlit roadblocking escapades, rainy and windy football games, nights on the town "with the girls," all your Venezuelan experiences, those Mississippi weekends, and Glee Club Tours. Those were the best of times. Hey, Clod, stay easy going and keep on working and, with Tab in hand, we're sure you will reach your goals. Take care. Chao!

"I live in that solitude that is painful in youth but delicious in the years of maturity."

It's a dead giveaway — the eyes, that smile, those gums. This girl's gotta be a Nation. Involved in stretching and relaxing, Ellen used to be seen dashing up to Pikeville (all right!) before the cat's purr died. You may regret giving her torn paper, writing in her book, or stepping on her ingrown toenail. Don't fret, she knows if it isn't going to matter in ten years, it isn't going to matter today. In Florida, while babysitting, Ellen feasted on turkey deluxe, fries, and Sprites — and we thought you drank only Tab! Truth or dare: who WAS your date at the Junior-Senior? I cannot believe this, can you believe this? Remember as you go out to set the world straight (Oh, my gosh, I'm so nervous!) to keep on the good foot!

Amy Warren Newman

"Keep your eyes always toward the sunshine, and the shadows will fall behind."

Amy, at first glance, seems shy, but get her in a room full of boys and she becomes the most wanted. Her captivating blue eyes must be the secret of the group of Baylor boys that follow her even to McCallie games and sock hops. Hey, Amos Demos, we'll never forget your slapstick jokes or your silly, catching moods. We admire you for your deep concern for your friends, your artistic abilities, creativity, and humility. Amy and her friends are known to run into other Camaros before and after football games. She can often be found at Baylor picking up her twin or Hughever she can find. We can't forget dancing the shag, deep discussions, memory boxes, chapel talks, the Spaghetti Supper, and our senior year. We love you, Amy, and remember, "Sometimes you have to be silent to be heard"

"Feeling good is easy now. Feeling good is good enough for me."

Betsy, who usually finds herself in trouble, can be seen in her Mafia Mobile traveling to the KOA campground, the Hiwassee River, the elite parties at David's, or riding the mountain cables with the convicts: James Earl Ray and the kid. Sneaking around Elder(s) proved to be difficult, but Betsy somehow managed with a little help from her friends. Betsy can also be seen roaming the halls with her small friends, falling on Florida sidewalks, or just relaxing with Baby Blue. As a mountain girl, Charlotte picked up the tricks of the trade quickly and easily. Oh yeah, Earl, "Why is everybody pretending they're us? Even we didn't know we were this good." "How does it feel? ... Just like a rollin' stone."

Ellen Elizabeth Parry

"The friendship between me and you I will not compare to a chain, for that the rains might rust, or the falling tree break."

Ellen is a unique kind of girl. If you look in the cafeteria and see a table of girls convulsed with laughter, you know it's because of Ellen, since her expressions in telling a story make any situation seem hilarious. Famous for her black, rectangular glasses, old lady roles, sneezing, and constant lateness, she has the ability to laugh at anything — even Kimzey's worst puns. Ellen is the one who discovered Steve Martin, and now one hears her saying such Martinesque things as "the Grandma Song" and "Excuse me!" Ellen is a devoted member of the Shady Character Society, avid fan of Barry Manilow, and Saturday Night Live, and is one of the infamous Ruby Falls girls. Take along that great sense of humor, and you'll give those college men as many good times as you've given us.

"What you are is God's gift to you; what you make of yourself is your gift to God."

Who's the last girl in the cafeteria saying, "Ya'll, what can I eat now?" Our indecisive Mary Catherine who eats and never gains an ounce. Seen beaming through the window of her green Capri, this girl's cute smile stretches from ear to ear while she is talking even more than an M.C., live from Lookout, Signal, Pompano . . . Nurse Pain can often be seen swinging her tennis racquet (not at her patients) along with her hips. A beautiful dancer, M.C. graces the school with her terpsichordy. From Pawley's Island to Baylor and UTK, she's always on the lookout for that perfect boy. We wonder why she's going to Georgia, the party school of America, since her sole life interest is academics. (ha!) You're a friend who's added much to our lives and whom we've come to know and love.

Glenda Gail Petty

"To give my very best to life should be my greatest aim, For when I do, life gives me back the same."

Hey, Bionic Woman! Do you have a flaw? Gail is our star in basketball, tennis, soccer, and track, but in order to live down this reputation of an Amazon, Gail has become an artist and has produced many beautiful compositions. (Can't you tell it's a tree?). Gail is our independent, individual woman who's not afraid to do anything from riding her bike through Europe to pricking her finger in biology. Gail, we know your muscles stay stimulated from those nutritious lunches you eat (three ice cream sandwiches, two cakes, one pie). If you ever hear several short gasps coming from Gail, she's not hyperventilating, just laughing, but don't get her started, or she may never stop. Gail, you're the most dedicated, most intelligent, most respected, and the hardest working girl we know. You're a great friend. Never forget the crazy times we've had!

Mary Claire Pruett

"Forget yourself for others, and others will never forget you."

Who is never on time to anything? Who has a sweet and innocent air about her? None other than Mary Claire, our bubbly, big-eyed Baylor cheerleader. M.C. can often be seen in her gold Honda on her way to Baylor. To be such an innocent one, Mary Claire has always scared people with her driving ability, though you have to drive fast when you move as slowly as she does. Boys are always flocking around her, but of course to Mary Claire they are all just friends. Right M.C.? She is always looking for the best in people; no one could help but love her. M.C., stay as sweet as you are. Remember, "Nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina."

Keep smiling!

Julia Peek Reilly

"There's nothing wrong with chasing dreams . . . you might catch one."

Feezie, where's your bow? She's a little foggy at times: her standard comment is, "I can't remember." She's a little slow moving, but watch out, if she sets her mind to something Feezie can best be described as persistent. Feezie is content in front of the TV when she's eating a bologna sandwich with American cheese and pickles; she even goes back for more. Another favorite food is fried shrimp. She is a sports enthusiast and a Beach Boys fan. In addition she enjoys tennis, she is a fine golf player and a true UTC basketball fan. Incidentally, with whom were you playing golf that Thursday? Only Foot can find herself in strange situations and not know how she got there! Keep your head on and look straight ahead, not toward the West, and you'll stay on your feet.

"Be kind to copy boys, for you'll meet them on the way down, when they are editors."

Gi Gi? No, G G., is our brown-haired, green-eyed, dimpled Red Bunker with a southern drawl. Hey, G.G., how do you get seven syllables out of RED BANK? She can often be seen zipping around Chattanooga in her orange Karmann-Ghia. How do you manage to work eight hours a day and go to school? Oh well, you have to change with The Times. She's definitely unique. Who else is as ambitious as she and yet as apathetic, or procrastinates as much as she and yet gets as much done as she. She's our "All-unAmerican Girl" with her German car, Japanese camera, Canadian boyfriend, and desire to go to France. By the way, if you can ride on one wheel, why can't you roll on eight? When you go off to college, don't forget us, and don't forget your Mickey Mouse watch. (Without it you wouldn't know how much you were procrastinating!) Keep your dreams and remember, we love ya

Sara Louise Robinson

"Persistence breeds success."

Underneath that deceptively sweet and innocent exterior lurks a scheming little devil that few have seen. Remember the heavy, deep and real talks, the basic clean-cut preppy, backstage soap operas, dates with a disc jockey, 5:00 A.M. track meets with the McCallie tennis team, going to sleep to avoid after-the-party cleanup, and working out everyone else's romances. If ever you need an honest opinion, you'll get one from Sara, whether you want it or not. Ms. Robinson can be found dancing her way around Nancy's workshop, selling prep clothes at the Leader, or conducting a Robert Redford look-alike contest at Baylor. You've been with us for only two years, but you've shown us your warm personality and have proved an excellent friend. Keep singing, Sara, and for Pete's sake, don't worry. If you're happy the people who count will be too.

Evelyn Paige Rowe

"If I should lose, let me stand by the wood and cheer as the winners go by."

Ebbie has come from a seventh grader with pigtails to a senior who wears two senior rings. She's the girl with the perfect blonde hair and giggly laughter. She is a natural athlete and has proved her ability in her years at GPS. When Ebbie's not hitting the volleyball, she's cavorting around the McCallie campus with her twin sister, Debbie B. Whenever we need someone to laugh with or cry with, and on rare occasions, to argue with, we can always turn to her. Ebbie, wherever you go, even if you land in Ukrانيا, remember we'll love you always. By the way, does everyone know that Ebbie still believes in Santa Klos? Just one more thing, don't get caught!

Kathaleen Lynn Scott

"He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain what he cannot lose."

With a leap and a handspring, our little pygmy sweeps through the halls while bursting into song. This tiny gymnast is always beaming and has become a ray of sunshine in many of our lives. How do you make a Kathaleen? A little craziness, a lot of love and care, hyperactivity, tons of spunk, a positive attitude, unpredictability, a little dancing, a little singing, intelligence, respectability, thousands of books, CVP, a piano, a spotlight, a piece of ham, tears, smiles, deep talks, faith in God, letters, ideas, art, gymnastics, frogs and a pinch of David. Mix it well, throw it together, and stick on a couple of dimples. Hey, Kath, when you're sitting on your peaceful farm raising those kids and loving your dreamboy, remember we miss you. Have a happy handstand!"

"Walk on a rainbow trail, and all around you will be beauty."

Oh, Polly, if we could only put you in a box and take you with us! We are going to miss your warmth, strong love, way with kids, stories of Ocoee, parties, creativity, pictures, dedication, loyalty, way with words, tears, poems, embarrassing truths, flowers, honesty, yellow bullet, surprises, and presents. There is always a happy memory with Polly, the telephone woman of our class. "You make me live. Whenever this world is cruel to me, you help me forgive. You're the best friend." We will never feel lonely when Polly is near. Polly, babysitter, big sister, crazy friend, best friend, counselor, inventor, photographer, or psychiatrist — at least may we keep your famous laughter so we may always smile.

Anna Catherine Shoun

"There is destiny that makes us brothers; none goes his way alone; all that we send into the lives of others comes back into our own."

Ann is the wonder woman of the Senior Class. She's the tall, blonde athletic, "Model type" senior who has finally gotten rid of her glasses and braces (and thirty pounds!). Ann can usually be found playing volleyball, basketball, tennis, or any other sport. She is our resident neat-freak whose locker is practically arranged in alphabetical order and whose room is germ-free. One can usually hear her shout, "Y'all, wait a minute while I wash my hands!" Ann is always a sweet and caring girl, but get her to a football game and she can be heard yelling "Kill 'em!" at the top of her lungs. We can't decide if Ann's really a bunny rabbit or a killer, but we know she'll go far with her self-determination and love for life.

"Live each day as if it were your last."

Stephanie can be seen running at 5:00 in the morning, ten miles a day — even when it rains. She's easy to spot with her warm-ups, yellow Nikes, and ear-phone radio plopped on her flaming red hair. She's the fastest UFO around! In the evenings you might find her at night deposits, at the Station House, in New York making friends at night club parties, or even just sitting at her drawing board. In class, watch out! Steph may be drawing a funny picture of YOU! Our little cartoonist is always ready to accept more work than she can handle at once. You might hear her say, "I'll do it tomorrow — I will" Steph, Buttercup, loves horses and monkeys next to men. If she's not fasting for a "hot" date, she's nibbling lettuce for survival. Don't dare her to do anything; she'll do it!

Julie Diane Sinor

"I am not afraid of tomorrow because I have seen yesterday and I love today."

Julie is the only girl in the Senior Class who can be totally indescribable and yet mean so much to so many people. In her junior year, Julie, a member of the elite Baleful Juniors, learned how to stack hay with her friends and engage in midnight roadblocking activities. The most leisurely of the class of '78, Julie is a straightforward person who can always be counted on for an honest opinion. She is very talkative in the wee hours of the morning. "Val, wake up! it's snowing outside! Oh, it's only 5:00 A.M." Julie is an expert on mob control, having spent a summer working for the underground at Ruby Falls. "Hey, Julie, do you want something?" "Yeah, a glass of water." Julie, wherever you go we're sure everyone will love your fun-loving nature as much as we do.

"By the yard, life is hard — By the inch, it's a cinch."

Once upon a time there was a fair maiden who dreamed of the day when she could attend the castle on Frazier Avenue. When she arrived she was accepted into the maidens' court with enthusiasm. The maiden with the barbie doll wardrobe was a lover of leafy green salads, operas, tennis, and could often be found engrossed in a foreign chat with Mr. D. This maiden was also an avid supporter of her realm of maidens and cheered them in their various sporting endeavors. She sang as joyfully as a lark. Moreover, even the king's cooks could not surpass her culinary talent. Now it's time for the maiden to leave the realm. The maidens of the court will surely miss her as she rides off into the next wonderland of dreams and wishes.

Leigh Anna Sisemore

"Your life is a sermon, so be careful what you preach."

Who's "five foot two, eyes of blue"? Jan Spangler, the girl with that curly blond hair. Jan loves to cook but is always on a diet. She will make an excellent housewife someday because she is such a perfectionist. Jan, one of a special few, has already chosen her Lane of love in life. Through a very special relationship, she has learned what it means truly to put another before herself. A very sensitive girl, Jan could water the jungle of plants in her room with her tears. In the summer she can be found lying in the sun or playing tennis. She wants to be a dental hygienist one day and has other dreams, too. Jan has gone from the bomb, to the jeep, to her dream, the silver streak.

Lucie Howard Stephens

"The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, or whither it goeth — I retreat in silence to the mountains."

Stephens is a churning volcano inside who rarely spouts out thoughts; but when she does, they are deep and profound. An outdoorsperson, she can be found in blue jeans and hiking boots while mountain-climbing. She's a hang-loose. The reason is she can be calm and collected through her klutziest moves when silently convulsed with laughter. This French wizard and Spanish senorita, our international jetsetter, is known for her rock hard stomach, philosophical mind, poetry, as well as for being a thoroughbred Southern rebel, the "Static" correspondent to White House, member of Shady Character Society, and for having her eternal crush. Lucie, we're proud that you're part of the McCallie clan: "Don't worry, I know who you are. I never forget a friend."

Karen Diane Stephenson

"If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams/ And endeavors to live a life which he has imagined,/ He will meet with a success unexpected in common dreams."

Hola chica! Que tal? Karen, the little(?) A brain and A athlete, is always smiling and never too busy to help a friend. Our industrious athletic president, who, by the way, is known for her organized announcements in chapel, is always busy being hyper or eating five nutty-buddies without gaining an ounce. Kern, in only two years, your friendship has become invaluable and we'll never forget you! You're a posterhead with no sense of direction, but you always seem to find your way to that back row in order to hear that certain ring! How is it that you're the only girl in school with matching accessories to go with every potato sack you own? Remember, calculus can be fun!

"I try my best to be just like I am, but everybody wants me to be just like them."

Yellow (Red) ... Turn on the lights, I can't hear ... and the little men go from your lungs to your blood to your heart ... Robert, you be the carpenter ... "Don't you know you're driving your mamas and papas insane?" ... If I were a boy, I'd be a Trop ... What about Pompano?

Stuart, you be the farmer ... Naw, Mom (turn upside down) ... I love life and life loves me ... I'm gonna miss you, Tarzan ... once a nerd, always a nerd ... and I'll be the mother and the artist ... Friday the thirteenth is my best day ... from your heart to your mind "Freedom's just another word for nothing left to lose" ... "Ooo, baby it's a wild world" ... "If you had listened hard enough, you might have heard what I meant to say" ... Never mind, Jan

Martha Jane Summerville

"To be needed in other human lives — is there anything greater or more beautiful in this world?"

Jane with her curly black hair and bright blue eyes always seems to be secretly laughing at someone. Beware of her quick wit, or you might be destroyed before you can retaliate. After spending the summer in Canada hanging around with the guys, she seems to spend a lot of time thinking about faraway places. By the way, Jane, did you say you got eighteen postcards in fourteen days from the same person? Never dare Jane to do anything unless you really want her to do it; she has asked a cashier for a dead goldfish, and she even drank a mixture of lemon meringue and milk. Jane, you are an understanding friend who is always willing to listen. Thanks for all the laughs and good times that you've given us.

"Hope for the best, prepare for the worst, and take what comes with a smile."

Who's that bright-eyed lass running down the hall with her blonde hair flopping and her knees popping? It's just Karen, GPS's own version of Chris Evert. She's the worrier of the class and is the only senior who is actually excited about her chapel talk. (No, ya'll, I'm not inviting anybody special!) When it comes to sports, she's tops: she never gives up! Karen has been known for her spasmodic diet — no sweets for a long time and then suddenly a huge craving for them! Even in her perfectionism and competitiveness, she is always a friend. Karen, stop killing yourself! Although you're accident prone, don't worry; you'll never fail with that sparkle in your eyes that charms all the guys!

Deborah Kay Templeton

"Virisque adquirit cundo." "She gathers strength at every step."

Trina, the eternal sweet-sixteen sweetie with big cheeks, wide feet, fever blisters, and a birthmark (Find it if you can), heads out to McCallie or stretches and relaxes at the Y or eats a plain delicious cheeseburger at Wendy's or does what(?) in the bamboo patch? A lover of the sun, she has made numerous trips to the sea shores: twice with Betsy and the gang, to Cocoa and Myrtle with Elmer, and to Morehead with her man. And by the way, Kay, truth or dare: who was that mysterious brown haired wanderer in Pompano? Debbie-Kay, we will never forget your constant smile, bright eyes, keen brains, or that seventh grade shag! And always remember to keep on the good foot!

"Don't walk in front of me, I may not follow. Don't walk behind me, I may not lead. Walk beside me and just be my friend."

Beth, don't lose your love for water skis, water beds, sea shells, dogs, roller skates, Baylor and McCallie boys, and most of all — your friends. At first, Beth often appears quiet, but her friends know her better than that. She has even been known to talk in her sleep. She can be found on her boat saying, "I guess I can ski OK." Beth, whatever you do, you do it best. In one summer Beth has been known to have three boyfriends, each conveniently in different parts of the country. For the love of Mike, Beth, remember Vermont! "This is true!" Beth, stay just the way you are and "thank you for the memories, but most of all, thank you for yourself."

Nancy Ann Turner

"To handle yourself use your head; to handle others use your heart."

Roo, our South Pittsburg linguist, is the girl who always seems to be laughing or singing. Nothing seems to daunt her spirits for long. If she is not singing in Madrigals, she more than likely is playing a prank on somebody. She'll do anything from flying and wrecking airplanes in English class to putting ice down the back of her best friend. Queen of the highways in her blue Monte Carlo, she always manages to run into South Pittsburg policemen. She is also infatuated with men in uniform: anything from football uniforms to Air Force uniforms. Nancy can be found in the strangest places, the Dixie Freeze and the river. (Labor Day?) She always has an appropriate answer for every situation. (Oh, my lord!) Even though you're crazy, we can't help loving you, and there's no way anybody will ever forget you.

"Life is what happens to you while you are making other plans."

When Robin came to GPS in the tenth grade, we could neither spell nor pronounce her last name. Now, as seniors, we still can't! Oh well, our adorable Robin is one bird whose wings constantly keep her in flight. If she's not at Glee Club, Madrigals or drama club, Robin can usually be found sitting under a tree, pretending to study. She may look as if she is studying Spanish but we know better. She's probably trying to think of a way to avoid that test next period. Robin, that smile of yours is contagious! Watch out or you may infect the whole world! Hey, that's not a bad idea! Watch out, world, ready or not here she comes!

Anne Elizabeth Vance

"Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a heaven for."

Little Annie All-A-Glow, our lively, vivacious blonde, spends half her life with her head up in the clouds in her own little "once upon a time" land. But don't let her fool you. If she's not at home writing fairytales or collecting stuffed animals, then you'll probably find her at the pool swimming her heart out or skiing like mad down the slopes of Aspen. During her sophomore year Annie met the boy of her dreams driving by in a Mark (?) IV and she soon became a Foster-child. Annie babes, never forget our elite parties at David's, hitch-hiking up the Hiwassee, the baby blues, communes in Cooley's yard, always one extra in Pompano, or chow downs on Sundays. Annie, if you have to lock the keys in the car, please turn off the motor first

"The days that made us happy made us wise."

Ruthie Venninghouse is the girl in our class who has a friend in every school in the city. She can be seen walking down the hall with her knees bent or driving different colored VW's. "Susie Homemaker" is famous for her homemade eclairs, cakes, and cookies. Once you have gotten under Ruth's shy, reserved character, there is a whole different person who isn't that shy. Ruthie, how can we ever forget your evil laugh? She is also a very considerate person who is always concerned with other peoples' feelings and who would never hurt anyone. We know you will go far if you stay as sweet as you are

"Commit your work to the Lord, and then it will succeed."

Cathy is a friendly little girl, and her voice is heard all through the halls of GPS. She uses this beautiful voice to sing and to tell others about the Lord. Even though she is one of the smallest girls in the Senior Class, she has one of the biggest hearts. Cathy is a lover of pug dogs, McCallie, First Pres. Group, and Campus Crusade. "Her smile sets the room a-glow and sparkles like the sun. Her eyes smile, too, and tell the room that God loves everyone." Cathy, we love your strong beliefs, your unselfish concern, and your silent understanding. Good luck in all you do

Catherine Ann Vieth

"Let us remember how good it once was here when we were all united by a good and kind feeling which made us ... better perhaps than we are."

Nat, our multi-talented leader, is a unique kind of girl. As our littlest Baleful Junior, she can handle any situation and can always be found clad in the latest fashions. This attractive Head Rabbit, although a Commended scholar, still thinks she's eating "congenial" fruit salads. She loves Chrissie dogs, Steve Martin's "funny comedy monologues" and scheming with her twin of trouble, Hay. Nat, how do you keep a 22½ inch waist with those frequent afternoon snacks at the Pizza Hut? Nat, our official Arthur Murry disco-dancer, is willing to try anything once. (Tell us about the reservations — Bragg's Sherman's, etc.) Nat, we will always admire your ability to laugh even in the face of potentially embarrassing situations. As you leave those McCallie boys behind, we'll always hold you special in our hearts.

Catherine Leigh Weathers

"Un homme vaut autant d'hommes qu'il connaît de langues."

Cathy is always well prepared for any situation because her purse always contains such essentials as a pair of scissors, a lot of change, a pocket dictionary, and a pocket calculator. Her favorite subjects are math and French. This can be seen by her senior course load, which includes Math IV, calculus and physics and French III. Cathy has her oddities, too. At times she has been known to speak with various accents for short periods of time by changing accents every few minutes. Her repertoire of accents consists of French, German, Russian, Spanish, and a little Swedish. She is also fond of cooking and has often prepared goodies for analysis by her classmates and teachers. Her favorite pastime is chess, her favorite opponent is Dr. Hughes, whom she quite often beats. We know you'll succeed in whatever you do!

"A smiling face is like an earthly star. A frown can't show the beauty that you are. Smile, please."

Angie, our sexy little blonde bombshell, can usually be found racing around Baylor ("Love that gold dress, honey."), McCallie (Angie, did they really give you credit for being in WE BOMBED IN NEW HAVEN?), or any likes of a dozen places in her grrr-reen Camaro. However, if she's busy working, just boogie on down to Sears' Automotive Department where you might find her rotating some guy's tires, Leston of course she's anticipating dinner with that man. Who could ever forget "Hey, people!", Blanche Dubois, the final chapel talk, and all sorts of sultry vocalizings heard through Whirlwind '77. We seriously doubt that you were ever wearing someone else's fur coat. The only second-hand outfit that Angie ever had was the little red dress that picked a most inopportune time to fall apart ("Do you have a safety pin?") We love ya, Angie. Keep that smile so that all can benefit from its beauty.

Bonnie Elizabeth Wilson

"Whenever I see your smiling face, I have to smile myself."

"Who is the bubbly girl tripping up the steps?" Everyone knows it's Bonnie. Blushing Red, with her triple-jointed fingers covering her cheeks, she squeaks "Oh, ya'll, I'm so embarrassed!" From her spasticness and hyperactivity, to her never-ceasing spirit for the Red Raiders, she is the secret love of every boy in town. There's no telling what our Baylor cheerleader might do next. She came from a quiet, reserved seventh grader to the fun-loving girl she is today. Bonnie is the life of the party (or the entire party herself) with her continual sense of humor. With a pom-pom in one hand and a psychedelic striped charger in the other, she'll have LTK rolling on its sides. Smiling, laughing, singing, and tripping, Bonnie brightens our rather dull days. We've loved your smiles and friendliness throughout the years at GPS. You'll win everyone's heart with your smile, Bon'

Wendy Ann Woods

"Too low they build, who build beneath the stars."

Wanda, I mean Wendy, has grown from a beanpole seventh grader to a voluptuous senior. "Now wait a second" — time to go to MacDonald's for a cheeseburger and coke. Our president of the Student Council is the first one to say she will never get married or have children, but right now she has a family of 500 girls. Always able to share a laugh, a word of encouragement, a lot of advice, and a good time — that's Wendy. With a mind and heart like yours, you will always be thought of as a giver and an achiever. Wendy, see ya' in the White House!

Lucinda Anne Wyeth

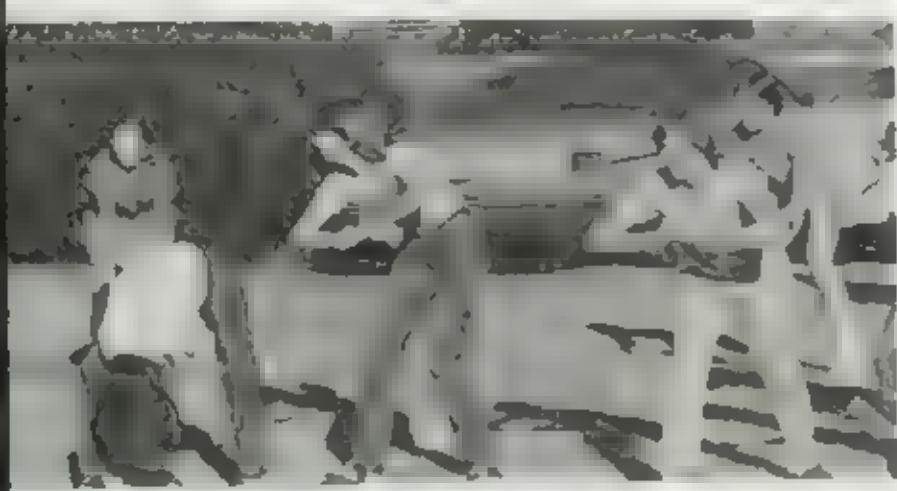

"I have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night."

Twinkle toes is the only girl in the Senior Class who trips over her own two feet but can glide across a stage gracefully. Our own little Hiawatha lost her braids her senior year but gained a puppy named Kitty. She is often cooking exotic foods to try out on her friends and her three brothers.

Impressive Lucinda can be seen at exciting McCallie sock hops. "Hey, George, what about him?" Lucinda, don't forget to take your head along with you; we never know what you're going to lose next. She and M. & M can often be seen crusin' through Brainerd looking for the guy in the silver Nova. By the way, you didn't happen to go to Maine last summer, or was it the one before that? Hey, Luc, tell us about Canadian men

Making
the Annual

The Annual Board spent hundreds of hours working to make their year-long project, the GPS yearbook, a reality. Amidst the piles of layouts, pictures, art boards, and copy sheets, the '77-'78 KALEIDOSCOPE took shape. Finally, after many frantic deadlines, the KALEIDOSCOPE staff presents their account of a classic year.

Terpsichord is the advanced modern dance club which gives girls who are interested in dance the opportunity to choreograph and perform. The members present a sacred dance program in the fall, a Christmas program, a spring program, several performances in the community, and they also perform on May Day. Terpsichordians agree that, although the practices are demanding, their dance experiences are "extremely rewarding and fun."

Sophomore Night

Last fall the sophomores held the third annual Sophomore Night. Festivities included a student flower show, with the theme "The Joy of Changing Seasons." Sophomores and their parents enjoyed the flower show, refreshments, and video-taped movies of students. The class officers, team captains, and officers of Robin Hood, the Student Council, and the Honor Society took part in a beauty pageant talent show for the parents and students.

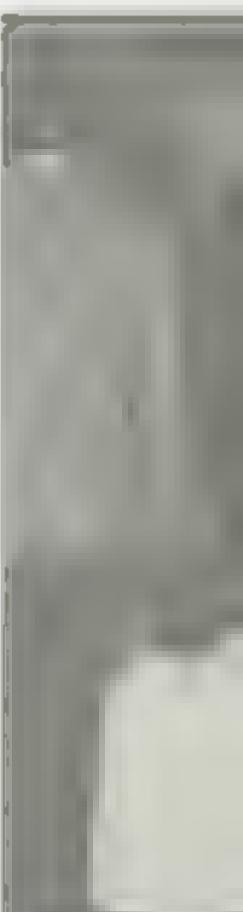

After the GPS — McCallie football game, the hungry victors donned their evening attire and went to the Senior Spaghetti Supper. They ate spaghetti, salads, and sundaes and enjoyed good conversation. After dinner the entertainment consisted of Anne Kimzey imitating Steve Martin, Ellen Parry doing a weather report, Joni Masingill doing a news broadcast — "Little Luther," and Stephanie Shuptrine imitating Elton John. Julie McElhattan, Kathleen Scott, Caroline Chipley, Angie Williams, and Sara Robinson sang songs. It was a nice finish to a day of our senior year that we'll remember with fondness.

This year May Day was postponed because of rain, but the festivities began the following day under sunny skies. The arts festival entertained audiences until it was time for the presentation of the seniors, the queen and her court. Katie Lonas, the May Queen, was crowned by Beth Braddock, Maid of Honor, and was attended by Kate Jackson, crown bearer; Maureen McGregor, scepter bearer; and train bearers,

Kay Templeton and Karen Taylor. The dance clubs and Terpsichord members performed the dances and the sophomores wound the maypoles. A reception for the seniors and their families followed the festivities.

Annual Board Poll

In February 1978 the Annual Board distributed a poll to the student body through the English classes. "Yes" "no" questions were mixed with routine questions and the results were tabulated according to the 7th and 8th grades and the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Questions concerned school, national and local affairs, and social conditions.

Andy Gibb is the favorite male singer in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. James Taylor and Barry Manilow are favorite in the upper grades. The favorite movie is "The Star Wars" and the 9th graders like "Raiders of the Lost Ark" and "The Empire Strikes Back". "The Empire Strikes Back" and "Star Wars" are the most popular movies for the whole school. "STAR WARS", "CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND", "SATURDAY NIGHT FEVER" and "THE GOODBYE GIRL" were other favorites. "Sweet Dreams" by the Bee Gees is the song they think is the best. "We Will Rock You" by Queen is second choice. The most popular class on show in the lower grades is "GOLF IS NO. 1" and "SOAP" is the favorite in the upper grades. Burt Reynolds is the favorite movie actor in the lower grades and Robert Redford is the best liked in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Barbara Streisand is the favorite actress at the whole school. Most people's cars range from Edsels to Rolls Royces, but most people prefer the Mercedes Benz.

None of us will think this is the way twenty years from now. We will have started new ideas and opinions. As the viewpoints of the seniors changed in their six years at GPS and in my recollection of the class of 1978, eight seniors in the 1978 class, sixty six have attended GPS for six years. We have seen the opening of the GMR, the Arts, the Science Building, the Field House and the Auxiliary Gym. The entrance to the school was sandblasted and the letters above the entrance disappeared. Benches were added and more sidewalks made. The tower was glassed in and the hills were carpeted and painted in the surrounding. The Junior School Study Hall is no longer study hall and classrooms are no longer hall or hallway. The dance practice room is no longer room in classroom. The STATION has ceased to be a station and now PERI-WELKIN has its own executive offices.

Two courts have been added to the school and the best basketball player at GPS in their time. Track and Country, a new basketball will have been added to the sports program. Ryan Head is the new name of the Water Cup. We no longer have specific classes such as first period or Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday. The whole school is on a May Day, then on May 11, the school is closed and now only dance club members dance. Our class is the last class to have seven large decorated attending on May Day. There is an increasing of classes on May 11, May Day. We now have computers in a classroom, a typing course and a drivers education course.

GPS has changed drastically in the past six years and will continue to change in the future. Like GPS our class will continue to change. Years from now we will not believe the same things we believed in February, 1978.

In 1978, twenty-five years ago, we put together this time capsule of items we felt were representative of that year. Now as you take a nostalgic view of these classics they should evoke fond memories. Wendy's hamburger chains and their drive-in windows provided the latest in fast-food dining convenience. Two movies of that year, STAR WARS and CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND, brought on a UFO craze. In the world of entertainment, comedian Steve Martin became a huge success and he often showed up in record collections and magazines. Different styles in hair, clothes, and jewelry have come and gone, but the style of the '77-'78 school year is like no other.

Honor Council

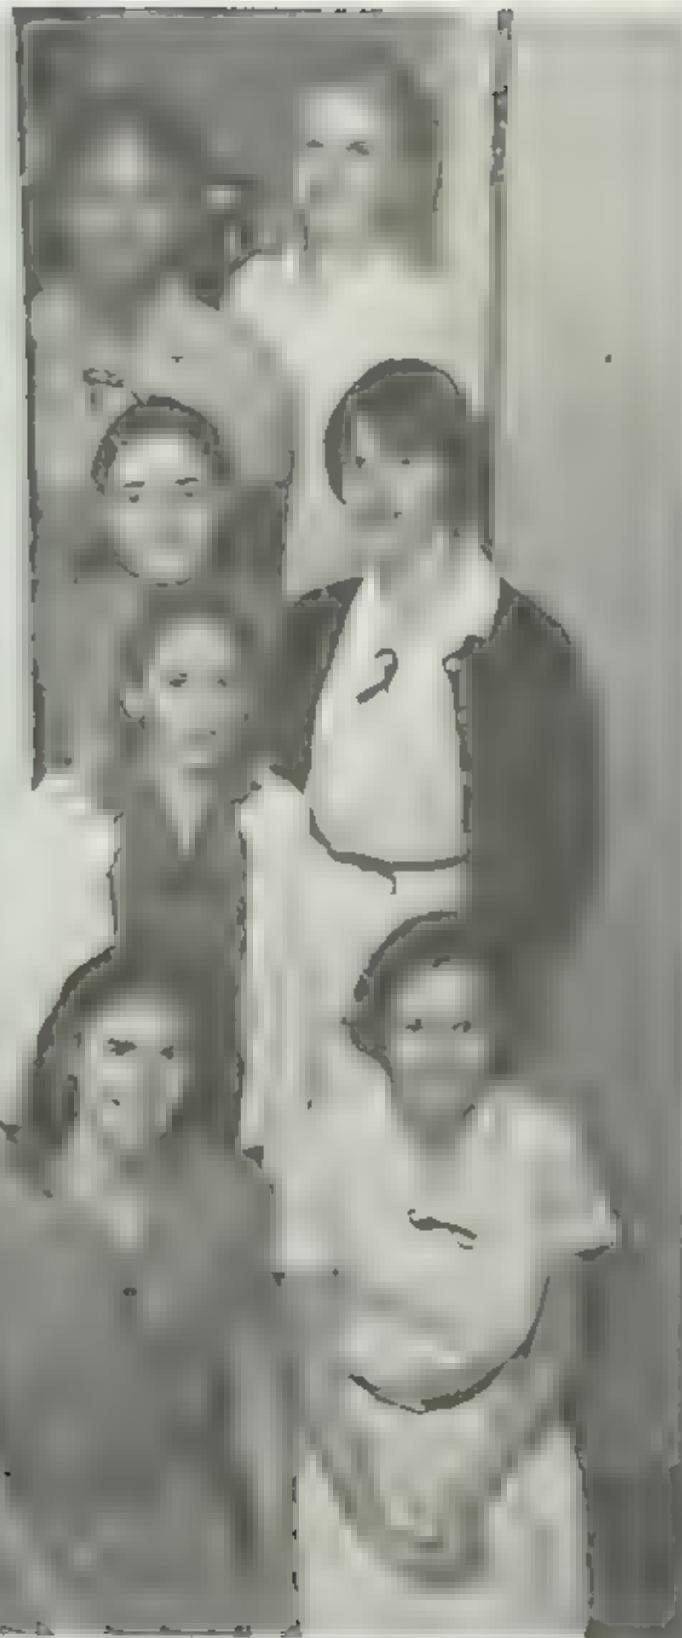

The Honor Council works to maintain one of the most important institutions at GPS, the honor system. The representatives, under the leadership of Nat Waldorff, meet with girls who have been turned in for violating the honor code and give them a chance to explain their behavior. The council then talks with the violators and helps them to realize the importance of a strong honor system. Although not many people get a behind-the-scenes view of the Honor Council, the results of their activity is clearly evidenced by the trusting atmosphere with surrounds GPS.

Student Council

The Student Council's initiative and dedication has produced impressive results this year. They began a bookstore where school supplies, warm-ups and t-shirts were sold. They entertained us with the talent show, switches and candy canes, and the Halloween movie, FAMILY PLOT. They were the masterminds behind the football game and the influential factor in having the Sweetheart Dance. The Thanksgiving baskets and the teachers' birthday flowers are also indications of the constant thoughtfulness and involvement of the Student Council.

Presidents' Council

The purpose of the Presidents' Council is to keep the GPS administration in touch with the needs and ideas of the students. It is comprised of the class presidents and the Honor Council and Student Council presidents. These girls meet with Dr. Hughes to discuss various school issues, problems that arise, and possible solutions. The Presidents' Council is a valuable channel of communication which helps to keep GPS running smoothly.

In Memoriam

Suzanne R. Anderson

"In every person's lifetime there appears on the horizon someone who is a joy and inspiration to all who know her — the kind of person that one is proud to acknowledge as a friend. How very fortunate we are to have been blessed with one who looked for the best in everyone and gave the best of herself in all her endeavors."
